Course Overview

This course provides you with an opportunity to learn about the different research programs of (and opportunities available with) our faculty.

Course Administration

Holidays (no class)

- No class sessions will be impacted by a holiday this quarter.

Expectations

Attend all class sessions on time and ready to participate via discussion in that day's topic(s).

Participation

Class participation is important. You must attend and participate in at least seven (7) out of nine (9) class sessions in order to pass.

Assignments

Assignments are due the date indicated in Canvas, unless otherwise stated by the instructor.

Late Assignment Policy: Summations/reflections must be submitted within 24 hours of the class session or they will not be accepted.

Complete assignment descriptions and their individual grading criteria can be found on Canvas. Below is the grading breakdown for this course.

Assignment	Percentage of Total Grade
Class Participation (active and summary submission)	100%
Total	100%

Success

1. Maintain the pace of class.
2. Do not miss class sessions.

3. Keep lines of communication open with the instructor and your peers at all times.

Computer Access

Students are expected to have access to a computer (i.e., lab or personal computer).

University Policies

All students are expected to read the following stated University of Washington policies.

Access and Accommodations: Your experience in this class is important to me. It is the policy and practice of the University of Washington to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. If you have already established accommodations with Disability Resources for Students (DRS), please activate your accommodations via myDRS [uwbothellschoolofstem.cmail20.com] so we can discuss how they will be implemented in this course.

If you have not yet established services through DRS, but have a health condition or permanent disability that requires accommodations (conditions include but not limited to; mental health, attention-related, learning, vision, hearing, physical or health impacts), contact DRS directly to set up an Access Plan. DRS facilitates the interactive process that establishes reasonable accommodations. Contact DRS at uwbdrs@uw.edu.

For Our Veterans: Welcome! We at UW Bothell understand that the transition into civilian life can be challenging for our veteran students and we have many resources for any who may want to reach out for guidance or assistance. This includes our Vet Corp Navigator through the WDVA and our Student Veterans Association (SVA). Please contact Veteran Services at 425.352.5307 or rosal@uw.edu. For those of you needing more URGENT support, please call The Suicide Prevention Hotline 1.800.273.8258 or connect with the UWB CARE Team <https://www.uwb.edu/studentaffairs/care-team>.

Religious Accommodations: Washington state law requires that UW develop a policy for accommodation of student absences or significant hardship due to reasons of faith or conscience, or for organized religious activities. The UW's policy, including more information about how to request an accommodation, is available at Religious Accommodations Policy (<https://registrar.washington.edu/staffandfaculty/religious-accommodations-policy/>). Accommodations must be requested within the first two weeks of this course using the Religious Accommodations Request form (<https://registrar.washington.edu/students/religious-accommodations-request/>).

Academic Conduct Student Guide

(<https://www.uwb.edu/student-affairs/studentconduct/student-guide>)

*All University of Washington students are expected to conduct themselves as responsible members of the academic community. Among the standards of conduct for UW students includes the responsibility to practice "high standards of academic and professional honesty and integrity." WAC 478-120-020(2) (a).

Academic misconduct includes but is not limited to cheating, facilitation, plagiarism, and fabrication in connection with any exam, research, course assignment, or other academic exercise that contributes, in whole or in part, to the satisfaction of requirements for courses or graduation.

Avoiding academic misconduct

The following guidelines are intended to help UW Bothell students make responsible choices involving matters of academic conduct and to help them understand their individual responsibilities and obligations as members of the University community.

- Be familiar with the Student Code of Conduct, statements, guidelines, and enforcement procedures provided by the University of Washington and UW Bothell. Those who violate University rules regarding academic honesty are subject to disciplinary sanctions, including the potential for suspension and dismissal. Ignorance is no defense.
- Be honest and act respectfully toward others at all times. Do not seek unfair advantage over others by cheating, plagiarizing, fabrication, or facilitation.
- Encourage others to behave fairly and to respect ethical academic conduct. Accept responsibility by refusing to assist in others' misconduct and discouraging others from engaging in misconduct. Recognize that you are authorized to report clear cases of academic misconduct when you have witnessed them.

- If you are unsure about any part of an assignment, request clarification from the instructor. Failure to understand clear instructions is no excuse for misconduct. When in doubt, always ask!
- Make safe assumptions about academic honor: It is your responsibility to understand and follow academic standards for crediting the sources of ideas, information, and phraseology to avoid plagiarizing.

Grading Policies

Overall Course Grading Criteria

- General grading information for the University of Washington Bothell is available at: <https://www.uwb.edu/catalog/grades>
- Course grading criteria varies by class and instructor. It is up to the instructor to determine the scale and conversions most appropriate for their course.
- Class participation is important. You must attend and participate in at least eight (8) out of ten (10) class sessions in order to pass.
